GERMAN "INVASION PORTS" RAIDED BY BRITISH FLIERS

Bombers Are Loaded With Many Gigantic Demolition Bombs

HIT AT MID-DAY

Raid Follows Violent New Attacks On Rotterdam, Brest, Ruhr Valley

By James E. Brown
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Waves of British bombers, loaded with gigantic demolition bombs that can be carried only on short flights, raided German "invasion ports" along the English Channel today following violent new attacks upon Rotterdam, Brest and the Ruhr Valley.

In contrast to the spasmodic German attacks of the last few days, the Royal Air Force continued its series of onslaughts with clocklike regularity. The "invasion ports" were hit shortly after mid-day.

Such huge bombs were used that violent explosions were heard all along the southeast coast of England while the earth shook from the detonations. The blasts resembled those caused by land-mines weighing a ton or more.

Germany's Attitude Toward France Changes

By International News Service
Vichy, Jan. 10.—Closer relationship between Vichy and Washington today were believed by observers to lay behind the sudden cooling of Germany's attitude toward France.

Following the "extremely friendly" conference between Admiral Leahy, American Ambassador, and Marshal Petain, French Chief of State, German quarters said Berlin is "rather displeased" by the general French attitude.

While striving to avoid any violation of the armistice terms, the Germans will make their rule in the occupied regions more rigid, these quarters predicted.

Clarence Garretson Is Hurt; Struck By An Auto

Clarence Garretson, 66, of 920 Pond street, was seriously injured last evening, when struck by an automobile as he walked across Pond street near the Bristol municipal fire station.

Garretson was taken to the Harrisburg Hospital by police sergeant, Daniel Ferry, and Joseph Nocito, 219 Franklin street, driver of the car which struck Garretson.

The injured man suffered fractures of the ribs, abrasions, and head injuries. It was stated that Mr. Garretson had a fairly comfortable night.

Garretson was struck, according to the police, by the front of the Nocito car. The grill work of the machine was considerably damaged, and Nocito told police he did not see Garretson crossing the street. The accident happened at about six o'clock, as Garretson was enroute to his employment at the Bristol sewage disposal plant.

Nocito was placed under arrest, and at a hearing before justice of the peace Edward Lynn, was released in $1000 bail to await the outcome of Garretson's injuries.

Children Warned Not To Take Chances On Ice

Skaters were ordered off the canal in the vicinity of Grundy's Park yesterday afternoon, when water began to cover the surface of the ice.

The police were called first to Silver Lake where it was thought that the skaters were taking too many chances in skating on the ice there. While Officer Sackville was at Silver Lake he received a call on the radio to go to Grundy's Park, where there was a large number of children enjoying the skating on the canal.

Within five minutes Officer Sackville had arrived at the Grundy Park location and the children were ordered off the ice.

Hopkins Plunges Into Conferences

London, Jan. 10.—Virtual assurance that the United States Fleet can use the Singapore naval base whenever it wishes was given an I. N. S. correspondent today as Harry L. Hopkins, President Roosevelt's special emissary, plunged into a series of conferences believed to embrace this and all other aspects of Anglo-American collaboration.

Less than 24 hours after his arrival, Hopkins lunched with Prime Minister Churchill and held a long conference with Viscount Halifax, newly-appointed British ambassador to Washington.

Well informed circles were confident that if Hopkins brought up the subject, he would be assured that any American request for the use of Singapore would meet an extremely sympathetic reception.

Former American doubts regarding the wisdom of openly offending Japan by using Singapore have been "dissipated by the realities of the situation," according to the view in informed circles.

In this connection, decision of the United States to establish an Asiatic Fleet without weakening the Pacific and Atlantic units was generally welcomed by London political circles.

Four Widespread Raids Made by Germans

Berlin, Jan. 10.—German bombers attacked Manchester, Southampton, Liverpool and Portsmouth in widespread raids against Britain last night, the German high command announced today.

Ten other prisoners said the trio ordered them into bed while they sawed the bars.

TELLS EXPERIENCES OF RESIDENCE IN FRANCE

Douglass Schneider Served As Co-Headmaster of School When Germans Arrived

NOW AT U. BLACK EDDY

UPPER BLACK EDDY, Jan. 10.—Douglass Schneider, who spent several years as co-headmaster of a boys' school in France, is now residing here, having fresh in his mind experiences during Germany's occupation of France.

Mr. Schneider said he had neither seen nor heard of any physical abuse of them. The treatment accorded by the Nazi military, he said, had been all that could have been expected under the circumstances.

When the Germans arrived in the section where his boys' school was located, he said, they took over all but one building which the staff and the students were permitted to occupy. Later, however, when the air force arrived, they were required to leave the building and later even a chateau they were occupying.

The air force, he said, supercedes any other branch of the service in power, because the Germans feel that they have had most to do with their successes and deserve special consideration.

The school's staff was, however, permitted to work the school gardens and use what they raised, but they were not permitted to take any of the equipment of the buildings they were required to vacate.

While there was no physical interference with the civilian population, he said, there was extensive looting, no small part of it official. Valuables were taken from homes and other buildings and, presumably, removed to Germany.

Mr. Schneider, the son of American parents, was born in England while his father and mother were there on business, expects to spend some time in lecturing about conditions in France and his experiences, since he was obliged to leave France with very few possessions. Later on he hopes to find a place in some private institution for boys.

Applause and Support

Washington, Jan. 9. AT her press conference and in her column Mrs. Roosevelt has voiced her displeasure over the failure of the Republicans in Congress to applaud her husband when he appeared before that body to deliver his message on the state of the Union. She was, she said, "shocked." She rebuked the Republicans for not applauding and conveyed the idea that those who did not applaud were unpatriotically partisan.

THE truth is, there are, in and out of Congress, a great many persons, Democrats and Republicans, who strongly indorse Mr. Roosevelt's

MANUFACTURE AND IMPROVEMENT OF BOMBS DISCUSSED

Rex A. Hunter, Pres't of Hunter Mfg. Co., Speaks to Rotarians

TELLS OF CONTENTS

Members of Club Participate In Open Forum Which Follows

"Bombs, Their Manufacture, Use and Improvement," was the topic on which Rex A. Hunter, president of the Hunter Manufacturing Company, Radcliffe street, spoke when he addressed the weekly meeting of the Rotary Club in the Elks Home yesterday afternoon. Vice-president, Dr. John J. Hargrave, was in charge of the meeting which was very well attended.

Mr. Hunter told the group that the manufacture of bombs has greatly improved since the last war. The cylindrical form is now employed over the older type of tear-shaped bomb. Another improvement is the new type stabilizer which is fastened to the rear of the bomb, and replaces the old fins on the bombs.

Speaking of the content of the bombs, the speaker stated that for every 55 pounds of explosive there are 45 pounds of casing, or shell. The explosive is TNT.

"The American Government has now allowed England to use our first bomb-sight," Hunter said.

Speaking of the effect of bombs in the present war, the speaker declared that the incendiary and high explosive bombs have not made much headway.

Other developments in implements of modern warfare were mentioned including the new gas, "Lusitane," which is the same type gas as the old mustard gas, but more deadly. The manufacture by a large chemical company of a powder that will send a three-inch shell seven miles instead of five, and will drive a six-inch shell 15 miles instead of 10 as formerly, was also discussed by Mr. Hunter.

"Manufacturers of ammunition are not promoters of war," Hunter said. "This can be proved by the fact that there were no large scale plants before the present war."

"The government has accused the manufacturers of lagging in production, but it has been hard to keep production moving at full speed because of the lack of skilled mechanics."

"The manufacturers are doing all that is possible under the present arrangements."

Hunter also declared that the United States should send all possible aid to England.

Some of the improvements made by England in her anti-aircraft bombs and guns were also discussed by Hunter.

Following the meeting an open forum was held in which many of the members participated.

The Rev. James R. Galley, secretary, received birthday congratulations yesterday in the form of telegrams, telephone calls and songs by members.

Tells Exchangeites and Boys of Army Advantages

The Bristol Exchange Club met in the Elks Home last evening. President Horace P. Schmidt introduced the guests of the evening, including five young men of the senior class of Bristol high school.

The young men were invited in order to hear the speaker of the evening, Major Joseph R. Bennett, representing Colonel Felix E. Emanuel of the Southern New Jersey District, United States Army. Major Bennett represented the recruiting division.

Major Bennett spoke briefly to the boys on the many advantages open in the regular army for those who enlist for a three year period. "The enlisted man has every opportunity to further his education, especially in the vocations," he said, explaining that with initiative, especially in the air corps, it is possible to rise to the rank of second lieutenant, with a salary of $245 per month.

Major Bennett answered several questions, and then called upon his aides to show several films of army life, and also a group of films of the navy. The first film "An Army on Wheels" illustrated the mechanized arm of the United States Army in maneuvers at Fort Benning and Houston at Columbus, Ga., and San Antonio, Texas. The second, "Service with the Colors," gave an interesting picture of army life. The third film, a collection of three entitled, "Gateway to the Pacific," "The Air Fleet of the Navy" and "The First Line of Defense," were shown with permission of the Navy Recruiting Division of the United States Navy.

CHIEF POINTS OF OUTGO

Treasury figures show that so far in this government fiscal year which began July 1 last, defense and WPA activities are the two largest consumers of public funds. Defense runs to a billion and a half, about one-third of all expenditures from the general fund. In the first six months of the previous fiscal year this item called for $654,000,000.

The Works Progress Administration cost in the first half of this fiscal year ran to slightly more than $600,000,000, being $90,000,000 less than for the corresponding period of the previous fiscal year.

Direct defense expenditures have risen steadily since July to approximately $400,000,000 for November. The Navy led in this year's defense spending with $799,000,000 compared to $372,000,000 last year.
Comparable figures for the Army were $754,000,000 and $282,000,000.

In addition to defense spending by the Army and Navy, approximately $21,750,000 was expended from the President's special fund and another $2,314,000 for administrative expenses of the selective service act. Neither of these items was included in last year's totals.

The gross public debt, as of January 1, was in excess of $45,000,000,000.
The legal debt limit—which is expected to be raised materially early in the new session of Congress —is $49,000,000,000.

This, it may be observed, is only the first chapter of a story which is to be continued for an unknown period and to an unknown climax.

INATTENTIVE DRIVERS

Driving an automobile is not something that necessarily calls for great intelligence. Nor does it necessarily require much mechanical skill. Some persons of very broad knowledge, who know whole libraries full of philosophy, are poor drivers and a peril on the road. Some people who are extremely clever with mechanical tools handle a steering wheel so recklessly and use the brake so sparingly that they too are unfit.

Good driving is the result of careful attention. When a car speeds along over a road where there are many chances for things to happen, the driver needs to be wide awake and alert every moment. Things can happen within a few seconds that may cause a serious accident.

If the next street intersection is not clearly open to your view, some driver slipping out from behind those trees may be unable to stop his car. Or those parked cars along a city street, seemingly empty, may conceal someone who is just about to step in front of your machine.

Many drivers customarily become sleepy when taking long runs. It requires a constant struggle for them to keep their eyes open. Driving under that handicap is perilous.
If they doze off a single moment something may happen.

Too much talking with other occupants of the car, too much flirting with the pretty girl who snug-gled up to the driver, have brought many to grief. Anyone who wants to maintain a clean record as a motor car operator will have to learn to put his mind right on the job.

The evangelist who lets rattlesnakes bite him to prove the power of faith would be a handy man to have around in case of moving a mountain.

Salvation Army Drive In County is Under Way

voted its energies toward helping others retain an American way of life.
That Army is The Salvation Army.

"Its purposes are: the spiritual,
moral and physical reformation of all who need it; the reclamation of the vicious, criminal, dissolute and degraded; visitation among the poor and lowly and sick, and the preaching of the Gospel and the dissemination of Christian truth."

"The work of The Salvation Army is carried on through providing food and shelter for homeless men and women and finding employment for them; ministering to the needy and the sick, hospitalizing unwed mothers and obtaining homes for them and their babies;
caring for deserted children and operating camps for the underprivileged;
serving destitute areas through settlement house facilities—by all these things and more The Salvation Army is preserving among those it serves a confidence in others, a faith in God and Man—all of which constitute the American Way of Life.

"And now this Army is appealing to all of us for money so that it can, during 1941, carry on its work and continue to attack those conditions which violate the American Way of Life. We ask your support for this self-defense
at home."

Mr. Murfit announced that contributions to the Salvation Army may be sent to Newtown Title and Trust Company, at Newtown, or to the General Campaign Headquarters, 1442 Fidelity-

Philadelphia Building in Philadelphia.
The drive will continue during this month and next.

WOTAN'S WEDGE

by FRANCIS GERARD
A PRELUDE
TO BLITZKRIEG

SYNOPSIS

Years before the Hindenburg Line collapsed in '18 and Hitler loured over Europe at Munich in '38, the White Hussars—favorite regiment of Frederick the Great—were holding their annual "King's" banquet in their "kolossal" headquarters at Koenigsberg, East Prussia. This glass-smashing soldier-celebration was to lead to a tragic aftermath immediately, and to many memorable dramas in the years to come—right up unto the days when bombers and U-boats flared Scapa Flow and other war zones into current headlines. But the time now is December 29, 1900, and White Hussar festivities were getting under way, when stalwart Prince Max von Wallenfels received a message.

CHAPTER THREE

Young von Wallenfels' request when it came was no surprise to his colonel. The boy rose to his feet and stood rigid, waiting for permission to address the other.

"Herr Lieutenant?"
"If it please you, Herr Kom-mandant," said the subaltern, "I wish to apply for immediate leave of absence. My reasons are urgent and personal."

Every face at that table suddenly became blank. With the exception of the colonel, to whom he had been speaking, not one of his fellow officers so much as glanced at the boy.

"Very well," nodded Colonel von Raft, "Your leave is granted."

Prince Max gave a jerked military bow but, instead of leaving,
he remained standing.

Today's Quiet Moment

(By Howard L. Zepp, Th. M.)

O God of infinite patience, teach us Thy patience to endure unto the end. We are so prone to expect immediate results; we are more patient with our shade trees than with the tree of life. We plant our bulbs in the fall and patiently wait until spring for blooms; we sow our grain in the autumn and patiently wait until summer for its ripening. Help us to exhibit something of the same patience with the intangible and non-visible features of our lives. Amen.

family have returned to their home in Buffalo, N. Y., after a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. George Burger, Wilson avenue.

ON THE SCREENS

BRISTOL THEATRE

"Brigham Young" was produced on a magnificent scale by Darryl F. Zanuck. The picture, which opened yesterday at the Bristol Theatre, is spectacular and grippingly dramatic. It has an exceptional cast starring Tyrone Power with Linda Darnell in the leading feminine role and Dean Jagger portraying Brigham Young. With the great Mormon migration as its theme, the film gets off to a tremendous start. The massacre at Nauvoo, Ill., and the heroic trek westward are depicted with thrilling realism.

Five new songs rapidly increasing in popularity are heard in "Dancing On A Dime," which opens today at the Bristol Theatre.

"Land of Six Guns" is also showing.

GRAND THEATRE

When dashing Tyrone Power slashed on the screen of the Grand Theatre last night the jagged "Z" that is the sword mark of the great California bandit in "The Mark of Zorro," every fan in that audience seemed to realize that he was experiencing the movie thrill of his lifetime!

For what is undoubtedly the most famous and colorful of all screen roles—the characterization that brought Douglas Fairbanks undying fame—is also the perfect role for Tyrone and it marks what is unquestionably the greatest triumph of his career.

And Linda Darnell, who is featured opposite him, has never looked lovelier or appeared to greater advantage.

RITZ THEATRE

A picture slated to rank as one of the most delightful comedy-dramas of the season, one in which Joan Blondell and Dick Powell are seen together as man and wife, will open today at the Ritz Theatre.

It's "I Want A Divorce," which features Gloria Dickson, Frank Fay, Jessie Ralph and Conrad Nagel in supporting roles. Briefly, it tells a story which points up the romance and marriage of Joan and Dick, leads to their disputes—and plenty hilarious they are!

The Great Game of Politics

foreign policy and will support him on that to the limit, but who, nevertheless, heartily wish the direction of the nation were in other hands, and have neither admiration for him personally nor confidence in his capacity. They are with him on this issue not because they think him the best-equipped man to follow, but because he is right and in the position of leadership. Incidentally, he would not be nearly so right had it not been for the pressure of anti-New Deal individuals, committees and newspapers.

THE tone of his recent utterances has been fine and, in my judgment, they deserve applause. But it is absurd to regard it as unpatriotic not to applaud. If that idea is to be accepted, who can tell how it may be expanded? We may be told later that it is unpatriotic not to cheer all the members of the Roosevelt family on sight. It may be necessary to cheer Mr. Hopkins and Mr. Ickes, too. There is no limit to which this absurdity, once accepted, could be stretched. Certainly it would preclude critical comment upon the most recent reorganization by Mr. Roosevelt of his Defense Commission, made the day after his speech. If that fits in with his words then two and two no longer make four.

BRIEFLY, what he has done is to reshuffle his concededly unworkable Defense Commission, create another, to be called the Office of Production Management, and name not one chief, but two with equal power and authority—Mr. Knudsen, the industrialist, and Mr. Hillman, the labor leader. In other words, he has rejected not only the lesson of the last war but the counsel of the most experienced men around him. And he has yielded to the demands of the radical element in the New Deal. Instead of making one boss, he has made two. Instead of establishing one-man control and responsibility, he has set up a dual control and divided responsibility. It may work. Everybody hopes it will; but it is immensely awkward and the possibilities of friction are clear.

ITS effectiveness depends upon the ingenuity of its personnel to organize and of the two bosses to agree with each other. No one would think of trying to run a big business with two bosses. No one would think of trying to run a nation with two Presidents. This job of defense more plainly calls for one-man direction than any other. Until that was given in the last war things were in the same kind of muddle they are now. Once it was given, the wheels really began to move. All of this has been urged upon Mr. Roosevelt. He chooses to disregard it. Perhaps Mrs. Roosevelt thinks it unpatriotic not to cheer that and unkind to mention it.

TO some who view this two-headed setup with distrust, there is one phase of the Roosevelt action that seems more deplorable than the dual management. That is his insistence upon separating labor and capital; his persistent attitude that one must be offset by the other; or that one must watch the other; that an industrialist cannot be trusted to do the job unless there is a labor leader to balance his authority. This is no way to unify a nation. This is no way to inspire men who, at great sacrifice, are here to serve their country. It isn't right to regard Mr. Knudsen as representing capital and take the view that it is necessary to balance him with a labor boss. Mr. Knudsen ought to be regarded as representing production and neither capital nor labor.

IN the last war President Wilson named Mr. Baruch boss, and no one regarded him as "capital," though he had made a great fortune in Wall Street. Mr. Wilson did not put a labor leader on as co-boss to balance Baruch. He named Mr. Samuel Gompers, a big labor leader than Mr. Hillman ever will be, as a member of the Advisory Board, and Mr. Gompers got behind Mr. Baruch one hundred per cent. How are you going to cheer a President who, while calling for unity, insists upon dividing the country into classes? You can support him because defense is so urgent and his foreign policy so right, but it is too much to expect applause for the way in which he implements it.

Faith Clarke's SHOPPING TIPS FOR BUDGETEERS

It's fun to get to know a store so thoroughly that it makes one feel at home. You can do it, too, and know every nook and corner of one of the friendliest shops in town. Let me tell you of some of its values.

Hurry! An important sale is now in progress in Snellenburg's men's, young men's, students' and boys' clothing depts. (The sale definitely ends this Saturday night.) 20% off on all suits, overcoats, slacks, raincoats, tux, sport jackets, trousers, etc. Garments, like suits and overcoats, regularly selling for $21.50 to $55, can be purchased for $17.20 to $52.00. Grand! The only exceptions to this wide sale are Palm Beach apparel, alligator and Paris raincoats, and clothing from the army officers' department. Scram!

Plenty of blankets? Sure? If not, investigate the Snellenburg Blanket Dept., 2nd fl. Department equal to any in town, and such prices! My special find is an all-wool, moth-proof blanket, 72 x 90 (allows ten comfy inches for tucking) at $7.95 instead of $9.95. The moth-proofing is guaranteed for 5 years. These blankets are in practically every color. Excellent weight. Strong, lustrous, rayon satin binding. While in this rayon snuggly, snuggly about and see the other values of which the canny dept. buyer is so proud!

You who appreciate "American Beauty" make mirrors, frameless and strongly mounted upon Masonite board, will want to look over the unusual collection in Snellenburg's mirror dept. These fine mirrors are manufacturer-guaranteed to be made of the best materials obtainable, and the shop stands back of the guarantee. Designs are round, square, oblong, octagon. Sizes of oblongs being 24 x 36 ins., 32 x 40 ins. and 36 x 46 ins. Designs both plain and etched or artistically cut. Suitable for all rooms and halls. Really beautiful. See!

You winter vacationists who will soon start for warmer climes will find exactly the right warm garments, at most reasonable prices, in Snellenburg's 2nd fl. South Shop. Beautiful light-weight coats in light and medium shades cost $25 up. Charming new dresses begin at $5.95. See especially the stunning coats of large, softly merged plaids, untrimmed, at $25. The model with circular skirt and blouse back is tops, as are some others. The South Shop also has latest bathing suits, slacks, street suits, etc., some with nautical notes.

I don't know of more astounding values in town than can be found in Snellenburg's 5th fl. furniture dept. This time I spotted a treasure buy indeed—a solid rock birdseye maple, three piece bedroom set at $79. The set consists of double or single bed and dresser and chest. The pieces are finished in that stunning platinum tone, with the grain showing. This particular finish makes the set's American Colonial design suitable for either a modern or traditional room. Lovely!

Now is the time to buy that piano you've wanted. Cold weather is ideal for lessons and practicing or just plain tinkling. The Snellenburg store has captured the exclusive right to sell the fine Ludwig pianos in this area. Ludwig spinet types are splendid, ranging from $270 to $310. Their cases come in mahogany or walnut. This fine piano firm has kept pace with all the latest developments that make a good piano such a joy to play. Ludwig pianos received awards of merit in Paris and London expositions. And—three years to pay!

Prints! Prints! Every woman wants one of the new colorful dresses originally designed for southern vacationists, but which are being eagerly bought for wear under dark coats and dress-up home wear here. The new prints in Snellenburg's 2nd fl. Misses' Dept. are particularly fashionable. They come in both rayon crepe and jersey. All have strictly new lines. Pleats are prominent, some inverted. The sizes range from 16 to 20. Most reasonable prices are from $8.95 to $13.95. Some models have differing jackets and boleros. Let's go!

Philadelphians are thronging to see the authentic replicas of the English crossbow-bowels I told you about before. Do go to Snellenburg's interesting auditorium to see them, and hear their stories told by the famous Englishman who guards them while on tour. This is their first showing in America. The jewels have taken part in so much adventure and romance that I set breathless, listening and looking. A small charge of 10c is made, to be donated to the British War Relief Society, for the benefit of children in England. Until January 11th. Go!

Cheery shopping for your money's worth! Tell the shop folks you read Faith's column. Thanks! F. C.

ONE POINT DECIDES FIRST HALF HONORS IN COURT LEAGUE

Rohm & Haas Wins Over Profy's in Game Battled To Last Minute of Play

FINAL COUNT IS 35 TO 34

Fans Were Treated To A Hair-Raising and Hectic Tilt

A single point decided the first half championship of the Bristol Basketball League last night on the Italian Mutual Aid floor. Just as a lone tally separated the teams in the elimination game, there was but one point difference between the Rohm and Haas and Profy teams and they fought tooth and nail for the first half crown.

The largest crowd of the season, something like the old-time crowds, was on hand to watch the proceedings which saw the final count end: Rohm and Haas, 35; Profy's, 34.

The fans were treated to one of the most hair-raising and hectic tilts of the season as they saw the lead change hands several times and the Profy team make an uphill fight towards the late stages of the game. They saw Ray Dorsey miss a foul try which would have sent the game into an extra period, and then with five seconds left to play, this same player shoot three-quarters of the length of the floor to miss a goal by a narrow margin.

But again it was the "money player" of the circuit, Joe Roe who provided the chemical workers with the punch to win. The count was dead-locked 30-30 with four minutes left to play when a time-out was called. "Teddy" Sak, guard of the Profymen, was given orders to watch Roe and watch him close as Joe was the boy to come through in a pinch.

Sak hung on to Roe like a leech as the ball was being passed among the Rohm and Haas players. Then Joe was on the receiving end of a pass. He settled himself into back court, stepped back and shot the ball over Sak's outstretched hands. Swish! went the ball through the net for a goal which put the Maple Beach team two points to the good.

It wasn't long after this that Roe picked the ball out of a scrimmage and dribbled past two players and away from Sak to score from side court which were the deciding two points of the fracas.

In the Rohm and Haas victory, one cannot overlook the feat of Ralph Cahall. Ralph was guarded closely last night. So close that he was the victim of many fouls. But he proved his good marksmanship for the fifteen foot mark by registering seven out of seven. In the last game, he was fouled in the last quarter and converted to run his streak to eight straight foul points.

In foul shooting was the Rohm and Haas' margin of triumph. In their eighteen gift shots, the chemical workers converted on 13 attempts. The Mill Streeters were off-form in this department, coming through with but six in fourteen tries.

In shooting from the floor, the Radiomen outscored their opponents, 14-11 and had almost twice as many shots from the basket. The Rohm and Haas defense again was wide open with only Jesse Vanzant playing a stellarly defensive tilt. For the losers, "Teddy" Sak did an excellent job as a guard, blocking many would be Rohm and Haas goals.

Poul shots put the chemical workers six points to the good at a half-time rest period. Vanzant was the only player to score from the floor for the ultimate winners as he twice made good. The fouls were made by Cahall, a pair by Gouza, and one each by DeLuca and Vanzant. Dorsey was the only Profy player to score from the floor and this was a shot from the mid-section of the court. The colored boy also added a duo of free tosses while Patrick also converted on one of his two tries.

"Johnny" Slaven came to life in the third period and two goals in quick succession by the Bensalem High School coach brought the Profy score to within two of the Rohm and Haas total. Dorsey then evened the count with a toss from side court, after receiving a pass from Sak. Rohm and Haas made six points when Cahall dropped in a field goal and added a pair of fouls and Roe dribbled to side court to score with his left hand. Slaven and Profy counted for the Profymen and at the close of the third session the count stood: Rohm and Haas, 28; Profy, 26.

Immediately at the start of the final period, Slaven deadlocked the score, 28-28. But Cahall again made a couple of fouls and when Profy scored from a direct shot near the foul-line, the count was even. The tilt was nip and tuck from then on with Roe scoring the winning point. Rohm and Haas points after Cole made a foul and Sak with a field goal, and Slaven and Heller with fouls, scoring for the losers.

Cahall, with nine points, led the winners in scoring while Ray Dorsey made eleven of the Profy total of points.

BASKETBALL LEAGUE TO MEET

There will be an important meeting of the Bristol Basketball League to-night at eight o'clock in the St. Ann's club-house. All managers and representatives are requested to be present.

MANHATTAN SOAP DEFEATS FALLS ALUMNI

In the preliminary game played on the Italian Mutual Aid court last night, the Manhattan Soap A. A. conquered the Falls Alumni five, 41-38, in a tilt which lived up to all expectations.

The fact that "Punkie" Zeffries went on another of his scoring sprees gave the soap-makers the triumph. Zeffries accounted for 17 of his team's points in making seven field goals and three out of three fouls.

The Manhattaners and the Falls "grads" played bang-up ball from the start. The score was close from Referee Morgan's opening whistle until the close. At no time did more than five points separate either club. Falls had the lead several times but not for long.

Kelly and Smith were the only players in the fray who did not score a counter. George Chewning made 11 points and Appenzeller had nine for the boys of "Mike" DeRisi. Snyder had a quartet of goals for the Manhattan club and it was his goal in the final minute of play which gave the game to the soap-workers.

BRISTOL FIVE HOST TO FALLS TEAM IN GAME TONIGHT

Every Lower Bucks County Team Has Lost To Rivals

(By Jack Gill)

Lower Bucks schoolboy basketball, off to a rather drooping start, picks itself up over the week-end with a couple of sectional entanglements. Tonight in the high school gymnasium local fans will get a real opportunity to take a gander at Bristol. Meeting strictly home-grown talent in Fallsington, the result of this meeting will tell a court tale.

Morrisville, beaten Tuesday evening by Trenton Catholic, 39 to 25, rests a bit more comfortably with no game on tap. Bensalem, fresh from a "so-so" triumph over the Alumni, meets a real test in George School Saturday afternoon on the small Buffin court.

All eyes are focussed on the Falls-Bristol set. This year Fallsington, always a fair ball club, faces an untied Bristol unit. Although the lads of Coach Tom Campton split even in their two contests, insiders denoted nothing outstanding either in the attack or defensively.

Yet the Carding and Grey combine rules as favorites. At the start of this season veteran Jim Doheny, all this time a Falls basketball coach, pleaded for no pre-season fanfare. Previously it had been the custom to always stamp Fallsington as Lower Bucks title contenders. Often vastly over-rated, they seldom came through.

So this year they started with nothing, and after having played a few games, they come to town with nothing much in the way of a startling record. Bristol likewise hasn't surprised and lost a 39 to 29 decision to West Conshohocken, Tuesday.

Both have won one game. Fallsington actually pulled one out of the bag in whipping an always strong Princeton unit, 18-15. Fine guarding as the tally indicates featured. Bristol, in losing to West Conshohocken, who in turn lost to Conshohocken by a point, will know that it has been in a ball game tonight.

The two fives look to stalwart individuals to break lose often for important scores. Bristol, possessing one of the surest shots in district play in clever Chick Di Angelo, matches their ace against Frank Moon, high-scoring Fallsington center.

No matter how you look at it, the game should be tight all the way through. Although neither team may be an eye popper in form display so early in the season, it is reasonably certain that they will cling close to each other in points.

Coach Johnny Slaven's Bensalem Owls are due for an interesting Saturday afternoon session at George School. Up on the Buffin court, a handbox if there ever was one, fast boys employing even a faster break know every nook and corner of the floor.

Bobby Scarborough, Dick Colbert and Gene Ashton, three boys with the "know how" ought to carry the Blue and Gray team to a few rousing ball games this year. But Saturday may not be the day.

To add a bit of spice to the scholastic program, Coach George Reimer, who captained the F & M mat team in his collegiate hey-day, takes his wrestling squad up to the Georgian institution to do battle with Stan Sutton's crew.
